

aid projects we support at elaeis organic

Here at Elaeis organic we wish to give back into the region of the world where our delicious, quality Thailand Coconut Oil is produced. As such we donate proceeds from our Organic Virgin Coconut Oil to Bloom Asia.

Bloom Asia is passionate about empowering, underprivileged Cambodian woman. Every dollar we give goes directly to Bloom Asia Training Centres. These training centres provide world-class vocational training and essential life skills to some of the most vulnerable ~ empowering them towards a more positive future; a future of dignity, value and renewed hope.

Bloom Asia training centres are currently located in Cambodia and provide world-class training in hospitality, specializing in cake decorating. The women can also learn the art of handcrafted paper goods. Graduates from these training centres are then employed in Bloom Asia businesses where they earn fair and generous wage.

The magnificent handiwork that is created in the Bloom Asia training centres is a real credit to both the students and their teachers. Due to the quality and professionalism of the cupcakes right up to the multi-tiered creations, Bloom Asia cakes are in high demand all over Cambodia. The beautifully handcrafted paper cards are packaged and sold internationally.

As a mother of 4 daughters, one in particular who loves cake decorating, I am so pleased to support an aid project providing opportunities to these vulnerable young women. Opportunities that my children and myself take for granted here in Australia.
